

PRESS RELEASE

Best Western Hotels Ireland

Best Western Ireland's expansion continues with four new Hotels

Best Western Ireland continues its expansion with four new hotels joining the World's Largest Hotel Chain, in the first quarter of 2006. The addition of these new Members means that Best Western can now offer three new destinations in Ireland, Portrush in Co. Antrim, Claremorris in Co. Mayo and two locations close to the M50 in Dublin 12 & 22.

The first of these hotels is the Best Western Sheldon Park Hotel located in West Dublin with 104 bedrooms combining classic elegance and modern design. This hotel features a full leisure centre complete with beauty salon on site. Conferences can be organised for up to 500 delegates, with ample parking facilities and within very close proximity to the Luas.

The second of these is the magnificently restored Best Western Magherabuoy House Hotel central to all of the Causeway Coast's beautiful attractions and provides the ideal base to visit these amenities. The hotel has 61 newly restored en suite bedrooms, 2 fantastic new restaurants, and banqueting and meeting facilities for up to 250 delegates.

The Best Western Clondalkin Towers will open its doors on the 19th May, offering a fantastic newly built suburban property. Ideal location to Dublin West, this hotel is within easy access to the M50. This hotel features 80 modern designed bedrooms and conference facilities for 350 guests.

Later in the year the Best Western Premier McWilliam Park Hotel will open in Claremorris, Co Mayo. The Hotel will offer 103 beautifully decorated Bedrooms, a stylish Restaurant, state of the art leisure complex, banqueting Suites catering for up to 400 people & conference facilities for up to 600 delegates.

Best Western International is THE WORLD'S LARGEST HOTEL CHAIN® with more than 4,200 hotels in 80 countries and territories. It is a membership association of independently owned and operated hotels that provides marketing, reservations and operational support to its members. Best Western Hotels is Ireland's largest hotel chain with 20 hotels.
